Solid Brass Pendant

Capital

We wanted to offer a versatile light: an adjustable pendant with increased lighting control. We wanted to make a statement, a bold and elegant design that contrasted with the minimal Highline.

The Capital fuses a more visual design with the technical functionality of architectural lighting. The fluted brass profile is made with the choice of satin or antique patina brass, while the up and down LED lighting – with dimmer compatibility (switchDIM) – can be switched independently for greater control.

An adaptable pendant that effortlessly sits in a variety of interior environments, the Capital is made with high quality materials that look beautiful when switched on and off.

Uplighting and downlighting are powered by separate drivers allowing the pendant to be wired for independent up and down switching.

Brass is a material that ages uniquely from piece to piece, therefore colour changes over time may appear unevenly along the pendant length. This is not a fault, but a characteristic to celebrate.
