

EXTERIOR BARN DOORS

Not just any barn door is suitable for exterior situations. Parkwood have innovated where the panels meet the stiles and rails to ensure these are suitable for sheltered exterior use. It is an excellent option for adding timeless style to the outside of any building.

Barn doors have taken the world of interior design by storm, but many homeowners are missing an opportunity to incorporate the barn door look on the exterior of their home. With a bit of creative vision and skilled execution, barn doors have the potential of providing both functionality and design to the entirety of a property.

All exterior timber doors must be placed in a weather protected situation to be covered by warranty.
