The beauty of the white brick wall lies not only in its standalone presence, but also in its ability to adapt to its surrounding context. Whether it's a historical district (as is the setting of the above dwelling), a modern cityscape, or a natural setting, the white brick can be designed to complement and enhance the existing architectural fabric - it's neutral colour and tones allowing it to harmonize effortlessly and elegantly.

Architectural Handmade Bricks and Pavers (AHBP) have an "Exposure Grade" (EXP) rating.

This means they are suitable for aggressive conditions such as high salt environments.

Our bricks are easy to clean and will not produce any manganese staining common in many architectural bricks.

All AHBP products are handmade and locally produced in Australia, with excellent availability.

Colours and blends can be viewed on our website.

Brick Tiles and Corner Pieces are also available in all our standard colours and blends
